

How to Access the Testing and Education Reference Center Database

1. Go to CCA's webpage → click on "Media Center" to access the LMC's webpage
(or go directly to <http://teachers.sduhsd.net/ccmedia/index.html>)
2. Select "Research Databases"
3. Click proceed
4. Select the Testing and Education Reference Center database

From here students can read AP, CAHSEE, SAT, ACT and other exam study guides. Students can also take practice exams. To take the practice exam they will need to create a user name and password using their email address. The scores are confidential and will not be reported to anyone other than the student. After the exam is finished students will know what areas to focus their studies on to improve their scores.

The TERC database also offers college and career information, resume building and much more.
